

Thank you for sharing your story to show Californians why climate adaptation is important to you and your community! We are excited to collect these stories and showcase them in the August Sneak Peek Edition to Safeguarding California 2017. We know that we can create healthy, strong and safe communities, protect our families' and children's' health, and ensure a prosperous California for future generations to come. But we need your voice!

Photo credit: Our Climate Story

In order to inspire Californians with your work, we ask that you email us information based on the questions below to Sam.Diaz@Resources.ca.gov.

What do we need to know for the Sneak Peek Edition?
	Please share a brief description of you and your community. Please identify what issue(s) related to climate change your community perceives.
	Optional: Do you or your community have any ideas for addressing these issues? Here are some examples we have heard: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>✓ Bus shelters with cooling stations because of hotter days and more of them!</li> <li>✓ Plant trees to capture and clean water in urban areas!</li> <li>✓ Encourage leadership development programs to prepare the next generation for climate change!</li> </ul>
	Please provide quotes and pictures you would like to see featured with your story in the Sneak Peek Edition.

What's Next?

Sam Diaz will contact you with any follow-up questions. As we collect more projects and stories from Californians, we will draft the Sneak Peek Edition. Be on the lookout for a draft version in late July 2016. You will receive the final version in August 2016.

Questions? Comments?

Please call Sam Diaz at 916.651.5610 or email at Sam.Diaz@Resources.ca.gov.