Project Description: The Belly Wetland Restoration Project will restore approximately 1500 acres of palustrine emergent wetlands and an unknown number of acres of upland and riparian forest habitat on Twitchell Island. This property is owned by the Department of Water Resources and previously managed as flood irrigated corn and pasture.

Type of Project: Palustrine emergent wetlands, uplands, and riparian forest

Restoration Targets: 1,500 acres emergent wetlands, unknown acres of riparian forest and upland

Location: Sherman Island

Landowner: Department of Water Resources

Permitting: Not yet submitted – CEQA (done Spring 2016), 401, 404, SWPPP, 1600, and DSC Consistency

Construction: May 2017 – October 2017

Known Obstacles to Implementation: None

Project Proponent:

Bryan Brock, P.E.
Senior WR Engineer
bpbrock@water.ca.gov
(916) 651-0836
Department of Water Resources
Wetland Specific Location
Wetland Restoration after construction