

CALIFORNIA'S BIODIVERSITY CHALLENGE

Please join Secretary Crowfoot and diverse thinkers for a lively discussion about California's natural diversity and strategies to protect and expand our unique community of plants and animals.

Thursday, September 5
12:30 PM to 1:30 PM

California Natural Resources Building
First Floor Auditorium

Can California lead a global movement to avert mass extinction on our planet? And can we do this in a way that benefits California residents and our iconic natural places? Come hear fresh perspectives and provocative ideas.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE:

Briannon Fraley
Chief Governance Officer
Tolowa Dee-ni' Nation

Dan Gluesenkamp, Ph.D.
Executive Director of the Native Plant Society

Scott Loarie
Co-director, iNaturalist
CAS/NatGeo

Erika Zavaleta
Professor of Ecology &
Evolutionary Biology, UCSC

This event will be live streamed on DWR's YouTube page: youtube.com/user/calwater

If you need accommodations, please contact Heather Williams at heather.williams@resources.ca.gov