

SECRETARY SPEAKER SERIES

LATINOS

IN ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP

This Latino Heritage Month, we invite you to join us for a special hybrid Speaker Series event where we will connect with and learn from Latinos in Environmental Stewardship and the actions Latinos are taking now for our future. Join us and learn how to become an environmental steward.

REGISTER FOR ZOOM

Monday, October 3, 2022
12:30-1:45 p.m.

Secretary Wade Crowfoot will lead a panel discussion with:

LATINO OUTDOORS FOUNDER AND DIRECTOR EMERITUS

José González

DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SENIOR ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENTIST

Esther Tracy

CALIFORNIA STATE PARKS DIRECTOR

Armando Quintero

STATE COASTAL CONSERVANCY SOUTH COAST
TRIBAL LIAISON AND PROJECT MANAGER

Emely Lopez

As recognized in Assembly Concurrent Resolution 157 in 2018, Latino conservation initiatives break down barriers, improve access to public land and encourage outreach to, and new opportunities for, the Latino community to enjoy public land. Increased access to outdoor recreation opportunities for Latino families and youth fosters outdoor appreciation, as well as a commitment within the Latino community to conservation. Conserving our natural areas is essential for continued growth and the success of California's communities.

www.Resources.ca.gov