The California Natural Resources Agency (CNRA) in cooperation with the Department of Conservation (DOC), is hosting an in-person meeting related to developing a framework for governing agreements requiring two or more tracts of land overlying the same geologic storage reservoir or reservoirs for purposes of managing, developing, and operating a carbon sequestration project. This meeting builds off the kick-off webinar held on September 19th, 2023.

- Date: Thursday, November 2nd, 2023
- Time: 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Spanish interpretation will be provided.

The November 2nd workshop will begin with a presentation on options other states have considered to answer the following questions:

1. What percentage and what kinds of rights holders should the framework require for a pore space agreement to move forward?
2. How could the framework ensure transparency and fairness in contracting?
3. Who would hold liability for the long-term maintenance and safety of the sequestration site under the framework?
4. How could the framework determine what compensation is fair for parties to the agreement and for parties who did not agree?

You will then be invited to select the two topics that you are most interested in discussing in a breakout group, and you will be able to attend both sequentially. Three Spanish interpreters will be available for participation in the various breakout sessions. Then, participants will return to the plenary to learn the next steps. The workshop will close with time for open Q&A and public comment.
