Project Location:

Project Description: The Alamitos Energy Center (AEC) is a 1040-megawatt (MW), natural gas-fired, combined-cycled, and simple cycle gas turbine electric generating facility that was certified by the California Energy Commission (CEC) on April 12, 2017. The 640 MW combined cycle gas turbine (CCGT) generator began operation on February 6, 2020. The facility is located at 690 North Studebaker Road in the City of Long Beach.

Modification Description: The approved Petition to Amend the Final Commission Decision is to modify the AEC permit's operating hours of the CCGT and simple-cycle gas turbines (SCGT) to better reflect the expected demand by the electrical system. The approved Petition also allows an increase in the height of the CCGT exhaust stacks from 140 to 150 feet.

On June 9, 2021, the CEC approved the above-described project change pursuant to a regulatory program certified by the California Secretary for Natural Resources under section 21080.5 of the California Public Resources Code, finding that:

- The proposed modification(s) would not change the findings in the Final Commission Decision pursuant to Title 20, California Code of Regulations, section 1748;
- There would be no new or additional unmitigated, significant environmental impacts associated with the proposed modification; and
- The facility would remain in compliance with all applicable laws, ordinances, regulations, and standards.

The CEC docket files containing the Final Commission Decision, the staff analysis, and other information regarding the project are open to the public at: California Energy Commission, 1516 9th Street, Sacramento, California, 95814.
