

Resources to Resilience: UTILIZING STATE FUNDING TO BUILD WILDFIRE RESILIENCE ACROSS CALIFORNIA

Wednesday, August 11 | 1-2:30 PM

California's communities and natural places face an unprecedented scale and intensity of wildfire. In response, state leaders have significantly increased funding into a variety of strategies and programs to protect communities and restore the ecological health of our landscapes.

Please join the California Natural Resources Agency to discuss these state investments and how they translate into programs that regional and local leaders can utilize in and around their own communities. This interactive workshop will provide an opportunity to learn more about state programs and ask questions and share feedback with state partners who are building and implementing these programs.
