NATURAL RESOURCES AGENCY TRIBAL CONSULTATION POLICY DRAFT CIRCULATED FOR PUBLIC COMMENT APRIL 2012

Purpose of the Policy

The mission of the California Natural Resources Agency is to restore, protect and manage the state's natural, historical and cultural resources for current and future generations using creative approaches and solutions based on science, collaboration and respect for all the communities and interests involved. California Native American tribes and tribal communities have sovereign authority over their members and territory, and a unique relationship with California's resources. All California tribes and tribal communities, whether federally recognized or not, have distinct cultural, spiritual, environmental, economic and public health interests and unique traditional cultural knowledge about California resources which is important for the California Natural Resources Agency to utilize and acknowledge.

On September 19, 2011, Governor Edmund G. Brown, Jr. issued Executive Order B-10-11, which provides, among other things, that it is the policy of the administration that every state agency and department subject to executive control to implement effective government-to-government consultation with California Indian tribes and tribal communities.

The purpose of this policy is to ensure effective government-to-government consultation between the Natural Resources Agency, the departments of the Natural Resources Agency, and Native American tribes and tribal communities to further this mission and to provide meaningful input into the development of regulations, rules and policies that may affect tribal communities and traditional tribal resources. It is only by engaging in open, inclusive and regular communication efforts that the interests of California's tribes and tribal communities will be recognized and understood in the larger context of complex decision-making.

Each department in the Natural Resources Agency has a different statutory mandate and, in some cases, may have consultation, communication, collaboration or interaction requirements imposed on it by other laws or regulations. This policy defines provisions for improving Natural Resources Agency consultation, communication and collaboration with tribes to the extent that a conflict does not exist with applicable law or regulations. Department is defined as any department, board, commission, council or conservancy subject to executive control.

an open and free exchange of information. The inclusion of tribes and tribal communities at all stages of the decision-making process will promote positive, achievable, durable outcomes.

This policy is intended solely for the guidance of employees of the Natural Resources Agency and its departments and does not extend to other governmental entities, although the Natural Resources Agency encourages cooperation, education and communication on the part of all governmental entities. This policy is not intended, and should not be construed, to define the legal relationship between the Natural Resources Agency and its departments and California tribes and tribal communities. This policy is not a regulation, and it does not create, expand, limit, waive, or interpret any legal rights or obligations.

The secretary of the Natural Resources Agency hereby directs the agency staff and departments to undertake implementation of the policy as set forth below.

Implementation of the Tribal Consultation Policy

1. Outreach. The agency and departments must identify the Native American tribes to consult at the earliest possible time in the planning process and allow a reasonable opportunity for tribes to respond and participate. Each department is responsible for meaningful consultation with Native American tribes that promote regular and early consultation through communication and collaboration. Each department will identify participants in the process - including the decision-makers and staff with an appropriate level of responsibility - that can ensure that tribal concerns will be brought forward.

Comment [BLT1]: This term should be defined. The Lytton Rancheria suggests using the definition of California Native American tribe as defined in SB18

Each department shall disseminate public documents, notices and information to California Native American tribes. The documents, regarding the topic for consultation, shall be made readily accessible to tribes and be provided at the time of the first notification. Notification should include sufficient detail of the topic to be discussed to allow tribal leaders an opportunity to fully engage in a substantive dialogue. In the event the department makes an attempt to initiate contact and does not receive a response, the department should make
