Water Storage Investment Program regulation change to be considered at November Commission meeting

Modification would allow uncommitted funds to support timely completion of existing, approved projects.

At the November 19, 2025, meeting, the California Water Commission will consider action on a proposed modification to the Water Storage Investment Program (WSIP) regulations using the emergency rulemaking process. The modification would allow the Commission to increase the amount of conditional funding committed to a project on a case-by-case basis and administer WSIP funds as quickly as possible within the statutory limitations of the program, before costs escalate further, to maximize the public benefits that California is getting for their investment.

More information on the proposed regulation change can be found here. For information on how to make public comment on this item, visit: cwcc.ca.gov/WSIP-Notice-of-Proposed-Rulemaking.

###

The nine-member California Water Commission uses its public forum to explore water management issues from multiple perspectives and to formulate recommendations to advise the director of the California Department of Water Resources, and as appropriate, the California Natural Resources Agency, the Governor and the California State Legislature on ways to improve water planning and management in response to California's changing hydrology. As required by Water Code section 165, the Commission conducts an annual review of the construction and operation of the State Water Project.
