

PROTECTING CALIFORNIA COMMUNITIES IN THE AGE OF MEGA-FIRES

Approximately 25 percent of the state's population – 11 million people – live in a high-risk area. The wildfire danger we face is one of our gravest public safety threats. Join Secretary Crowfoot for a discussion with home hardening experts to learn about the latest science behind hardening homes and what actions are needed to make communities fire-survivable in the age of catastrophic fires.

Monday, November 18, 12:30 PM to 1:30 PM

California Natural Resources Building - First Floor Auditorium

1416 9th Street, Sacramento, CA

SPEAKERS INCLUDE:

Daniel Berlant

Assistant Deputy Director
CAL FIRE - Office of the State Fire Marshal

Calli-Jane DeAnda

Executive Director
Butte County Fire Safe Council

Forest Schafer

Forest Science and Management Coordinator
California Tahoe Conservancy

Yana Valachovic

County Director & Forest Advisor
UC Cooperative Extension

This event will be live streamed on DWR's YouTube page: youtube.com/user/calwater

If you need accommodations, please contact Heather Williams at heather.williams@resources.ca.gov